The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

CHURCH SHIRTS

If you have not already purchased one, there are blue, gray, and white church t-shirts in the church office; just swing by and purchase yours today.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

CHURCH SHIRTS

If you have not already purchased one, there are blue, gray, and white church t-shirts in the church office; just swing by and purchase yours today.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

CHURCH SHIRTS

If you have not already purchased one, there are blue, gray, and white church t-shirts in the church office; just swing by and purchase yours today.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

CHURCH SHIRTS

If you have not already purchased one, there are blue, gray, and white church t-shirts in the church office; just swing by and purchase yours today.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

Happy Birthday

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.

The Celebration Sunday School Class and the Book of Acts

The Celebration Sunday School Class will begin a study on the Book of Acts. In this book, God shows us that he has a purpose for us in every moment, even when it seems like nothing much is going on.

In this series, pastor and founder of the Passion Movement, Louie Giglio, will take us through the book of Acts that tells the story of the early church and holds deep promises for our lives.

Come join us for revelation, insights, and calling as we grow in our faith to fulfill our God-given purpose.

CHURCH SHIRTS

Running the Race
July 2024

I just returned from the MidSouth Annual Conference gathering at Fairview Church along with 7 other SCM members. Wow! Our mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ who worship passionately, love extravagantly and witness boldly. We certainly had the passionate worship going on in Maryville, and those who attended were blessed beyond what we could have imagined. I am excited about the Global Methodist Church and Spring City's connection with it. Spring City is well positioned to fulfill this mission in the power of the Holy Spirit. A couple of things I took away from conference follows.

We have to be about the business of making disciples. That includes discipleship, and it includes reaching new people. While reaching new people through new residents and through other like-minded brothers and sisters from our former denomination are good, what we need most is to lead not-yet-Christians into a saving relationship with Jesus Christ. One of the greatest things we can do is to offer eternal life to those who are dying without salvation. It needs to be the core of all we do.

Making disciples of Jesus Christ truly takes Holy Spirit empowerment. I resonated with what Dr. John Oswalt said in Tuesday's Bible study. We receive the Holy Spirit upon baptism, but we are not always completely filled with the Spirit. Sometimes we want to hold some spaces in our hearts for ourselves, but entire sanctification means a journey to letting the Holy Spirit take over all control. Part of the process involves, as Mary Lou Reece (Bishop Jones' wife) says, "Letting go of 'I'." Too many times I get in the way of God's work.

Holy conferencing is a very Wesleyan thing. MidSouth did it well. I wish you all could have experienced what holy conferencing can be. But you may have an opportunity next year on June 8-10 back at Fairview Church in Maryville.
