Running the Race

By Dave Grant

I write this on the heels of our annual conference gathering. We tend to think of annual conference as merely a business meeting. True, there is some business conducted. We voted on a conference budget, elected leaders for the MidSouth Conference, elected lay and clergy delegates to General Conference 2026 (which will be held in Johannesburg, South Africa August 30-September 5, 2026), and a few other business issues regarding the annual conference. But this was primarily about holy conferencing.

What is that, you ask. Holy conferencing is a practice that John Wesley included as a means of grace—practices through which we can experience God’s grace. Means of grace would also include things like prayer, Bible study, fasting, Communion, and even serving. It’s been said in Methodism that every Christian should practice it, both within and beyond the walls of the church.

In Maryville, the MidSouth Conference included Spirit-led passionate worship. Some of those worship services included a conference choir comprised of members from all around our five-state region (West Virginia, SW Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, and NW Georgia). Spring City even had representation in the choir. Holy conferencing provided times of learning about mission partnerships, training on evangelism, fellowship with one another, and learning about various local congregations making an impact in their communities and the world. I think we all left Maryville ready to worship more passionately, love more extravagantly and witness more boldly.

We will meet again next June at Fairview Church in Maryville. It is our desire to move around the conference from year to year, but for now, Fairview is big enough to hold everybody. So I want to encourage you while it is so close to participate in a day or evening or even in the conference choir in 2026.
